MINGAN & KINGUARD

Manufacturing, fire-resistant glass and system collaboration since 1999.

The manufacturing behind KINGUARD

KINGUARD fire-resistant glass is manufactured by Mingan Fire-Resistant Glass Technology in Guangdong, China. The business combines glass production with experience in doors, windows, partitions and other fire-protection systems.

KINGUARD	MINGAN
Fire-resistant glass supply and technical discussion for door manufacturers, glass processors, glazing fabricators and distributors.	Complete fire-protection systems and project coordination, including glazed, steel and timber solutions.
Discuss the required glass, application, system and supporting test evidence.	Discuss the complete assembly, drawings, supply responsibilities and project documentation.

Manufacturing capabilities

The group product catalogue describes laser cutting, automated coating, fire-resistant glass lamination and dedicated testing facilities. Manufacturing controls and product development support repeatable production and coordination between glass and system components.

Available product families and performance options depend on the specific product, assembly and supporting test evidence. Company experience and manufacturing capability are not substitutes for project-specific verification.
